

OUTTA TIME

Psychic medium Sophie McGaughey runs a small enchanting crystal shop in an old cottage.

Nick is a hardnosed construction company owner who believes if you can't touch, feel or see it, it doesn't exist.

And that there is no such things as psychics, mediums, ghosts or angels.

Sophie with the aid of her guardian angels Martha and Ann, they turn Nick's world upside down. They teach him that there is more to life than what you can see, touch or hear in the physical world.

Nick's guardians Bert, Helen and Sid join forces with Sophie's guardians to bring them together and the result is a match made in heaven.
